Only Sprint Mobile Controls provides a simple web page that gives parents the power to set phone use limits by time of day or week, see the applications downloaded to their child's phone and other important on-demand controls that keep families close when they can't be together.

Unlike other wireless carriers, Sprint Mobile Controls allows parents to lock their child's phone at any time – during school, late at night or even at the dinner table.

Parents can sign up and manage their account at sprint.com/mobilecontrols.
