Visit sprint.com/international to check coverage details for your intended destination(s).
- Know your voicemail passcode
You'll need your passcode to access voicemail while traveling.
- Understand international dialing
 - > To place an international call while traveling, dial the international access code, country code, then the phone number. When in GSM mode, international dialing is simplified with plus key dialing (use the <+> key in place of the access code). Check your device guide for plus key dialing steps.
 - > To place a local call while traveling, dial as you would from a landline in that country.
- Understand international texting
 - > When sending a text to a U.S.-based number or to a number within the North American Numbering Plan simply enter the 10-digit number in the 'To' field
 - > When sending a text to a number outside the U.S. and North American Numbering Plan, always enter 011 then the country code and number in the 'To' field
- Country specific travel tip guides
Access travel tips guide for using your device in your destination from sprint.com/traveltips (select device and destination for custom travel tips).
 - > Many devices come with international voice and international data roaming guard. You will need to turn the international roaming setting to "On" to allow service. Tap Settings > Wireless & networks > Mobile networks > Roaming Guards and then either International Voice or International Data to allow service. Check your User Guide for detailed information.
 - > To better control your international data roaming charges you may want to turn "off" the devices ability to update applications and sync data automatically by going into your device settings Account and Sync menu. Check your User's guide for detailed instructions.
